Town Spring Clean-Up Time

Acting Supt. of Public Works Donald Campbell and Fire Chief Harry Schnieder announced today that "It's Clean-up Time in Agawam." Agawam's annual spring clean-up drive will take place from April 13 to and including April 17. The Public Works Department will sponsor the campaign for general clean-up and fire prevention. The five day campaign will point up the importance of clean-up as one of the best ways to stop fires before they start and to stop unsightly accumulation of trash.

The Public Works Department will have its full force of trucks and men available to pick up and haul away all trash which property owners and tenants place on the street tree belt in front of each dwelling.

All materials carried out to the tree belt by hand by residents, will be picked up by the department forces.

The schedule for picking up trash throughout Agawam will be as follows: Monday, April 13—Routes 1 and 2; Tuesday, April 14—Routes 3 and 4; Wednesday, April 15—Routes 5 and 6; Thursday, April 16—Routes 7 and 8 and Friday, April 17—Routes 9 and 10.

The above schedule will not interfere with normal rubbish pick-ups as listed on regular route cards.

Post 1632 Easter Egg Hunt Saturday

The annual Easter Egg Hunt sponsored by the VFW Post 1632 will be held Saturday afternoon at 2:30 on the grounds of the Post Home on South St.

Mass 65 Benefits Now Exceed $4,000,000

BOSTON, March 16 . . . The Massachusetts 65 Health Insurance Association announced today that it had paid out more than four million dollars in member benefits since the plan began in November, 1962.

According to Herbert S. Woods, general manager, "More than one out of every four Mass 65 members has received Mass 65 benefits to help pay for medical expenses. Nearly forty thousand Massachusetts residents age 65 and over are now enrolled in Mass 65."

Mass 65 is currently accepting new applications for enrollment. Persons who enroll on or before March 31st can have their Mass 65 coverage begin April 1st. Emphasizing the April 1st enrollment, Woods explained that Mass 65 offers two plans of health insurance for persons age 65 and over. Plan 1, Major Medical ONLY, is designed to supplement other Basic Hospital - Surgical coverage many persons may already have. It is intended primarily to provide benefits for major accident or illness which is likely to be prolonged with expenses of unusually large amount.

Plan 2, which Mass 65 makes available to persons who have no other basic health insurance coverage, provides a combination of basic hospital-surgical coverage with major medical coverage. Basic hospital-surgical coverage is primarily intended to provide benefits for accident and illness with expenses limited to hospital and surgical charges of moderate amount. Mass 65 does not offer

New Telephone Directory Delivery Begins April 2

Delivery of 152,500 Springfield-Chicopee telephone directories begins April 2. New this year is a cross-reference index system for the convenience of Yellow Pages users.

John R. Moynihan, telephone company manager in Springfield, says that 150 men and women will be hired to complete delivery by April 16. Hiring will be done by the R. H. Donnelly Co. April 1 at the American Legion Post, 665 Liberty St., Springfield.

Telephone listings for East Longmeadow, Hampden, Palmer, Longmeadow, Ludlow, and Wilbraham are included in the Springfield-Chicopee directory.

Mr. Moynihan describes the cover of the 1964 directory as a salute to Massachusetts industry. It depicts an old, water-powered mill in contrast with a modern factory—symbolic of progress in the Commonwealth.

The new directory contains 112,800 listings compared to 110,800 in last year's edition. Special features include local emergency numbers printed on the inside front cover and space for frequently called numbers. Instruction and information for telephone users are indexed on the first page.

POSTMASTER URGES CAUTION TO AVOID BEING DEFRAUDED

Noting that mail frauds filch millions from the public annually and are increasing, Postmaster Mary Braly urged today that local residents take care in responding to solicitations from unknown companies or to "offers too good to be true."

Mrs. Brady said that she had received informational materials from Postmaster General John A. Gronouski about the problem and that the Postal Service is pressing a strong drive against quackery by mail, land fraud promotions, gyp work-at-home schemes and the like.

Mrs. Brady noted that one of the stiffest prison terms ever administered to a medical "con man" was given to Roy Wright DeWelles, of Pass Christian, Miss., who made an estimated $1.5 million peddling a worthless "oxygen therapy" device known as Detoxacolon. DeWelles was arrested after sending out 10,000 postal cards promoting the quack scheme.

In another recent case at San Francisco, Edward H. Johnston, doing business as Comstock Land Company and E. H. Johnston Company, was sentenced to six months in prison, followed by four and one-half year probation, for mail fraud. Johnston was also way back when . . .

CHURCH AND STATE

By Edith LaFrancis

The combination of Church and State in its strictest sense was practiced in Massachusetts only until 1691. Under the second charter, Plymouth and Massachusetts Bay resolved their differences and became one province. The right to vote had been limited to members of the state or established church, the chief opponents of which were the Quakers and Baptists. The law was now changed to include all branches of Christianity.

For the next hundred years the state forced towns and precincts to build churches and support ministers of whatever denomination they choose, on the grounds that religion was absolutely necessary to the welfare of a free nation. During the 1800's, the practice of religion became voluntary and taxes ceased to be collected for the support of the church.

Timothy Dwight, S.T.D.L.L.D., author and President of Yale, was traveling extensively in New England during the early 1800's and in 1822 published his journal, including an eye-witness account of the church and state controversy at that time. In regard to relationship of state to church he says:

"The Legislature of every State is the proper superintendent of all its prudential concerns. It has not only a right but is obligated by an authority which it can neither oppose nor question, to pursue every lawful and expedient measure for the promotion of the public welfare. To this great purpose Religion in every country is not only useful but indispensable. But Religion in any country cannot exist, and has never existed, for any length of time without public worship. Every man is obligated to support the religion which, by increasing the common prosperity, increases of course his own."

"Morality is merely a branch of religion. Moral obligation has its sole ground in the character and government of God. But where God is not worshipped his character will soon be disregarded; and the obligation founded on it unfelt and forgotten. No duty therefore to individuals or to the public will be realized or performed. Justice, kindness, and truth, the great hinges on which free society hangs, will be unpracticed, because there will be no motives to the practice, of sufficient force to resist the passions of man. Oaths of office and of testimony, alike, without the sanctions of religion are merely solemn farces, employed to insult the Creator, deprave the juror, and cheat his fellow men."

"No free government has ever existed for any time without the support of Religion. The one recorded attempt at this (the French Revolution) is proof that a government stripped of this aid cannot exist. During its short life it was the greatest scourge the world has ever seen. Instead of being a free, just and beneficent system of administration it was more despotic than a Persian Caliphate, wasteful of life and all its blessings. Until the remembrance of this experiment shall have been lost, it can never be made again."

Timothy Dwight concludes that the "modern" religion of his day was more generous and showed more kindness than the early Puritan beliefs but adds that, "We have lost that proper energy in behalf of what is right, and that vigorous hostility to what is wrong. The spirit with which we resist wickedness is languid and the measures tax."

CHRISTIANITY'S BIRTHDAY

It's a fine time of year. The quickening of spring is on the land and March 29 will be Easter Sunday. We are reminded of Irving Berlin's famous song, Easter Parade. The lyrics paint a vivid picture of the lighter side of this day and the melody comes back to our mind as we read the words—"In your Easter bonnet, with all the frills upon it, You'll be the grandest lady in the Easter Parade." The musical genius of Mr. Berlin and the appalling inventiveness of the female mind have combined to make the Easter bonnet a kind of contemporary symbol of the observance of Easter. Ten of millions of Christians attending church on Easter Sunday morning may have a new bonnet, many millions more around the world will not, but the meaning of the day will be the same for all. Following the crucifixion, Christ rose in both body and spirit and Christianity was born.

For those of us who live in the northern hemisphere, it seems fitting that this time should come in the spring of the year—a time for new bonnets and for rebirth and growth after the rigors of winter. And for Christians everywhere, it is a time of rededication and renewed faith in the way of the Lord as a guide to better life and a peaceful world.

Mass 65 is sponsored by forty-six of American's leading private insurance companies. Massachusetts was one of the first states to make this kind of insurance available for their older citizens. More than 250,000 persons age 65 and over have enrolled in these states. New Hampshire, Maine, Virginia, and fourteen other states have now passed enabling legislation to make "65-type" health insurance programs available to their residents.

OUR 2nd CENTURY.
We want to start it with a BANG!

In the good old days of horse cars and no-cars, ice wagons, cigar store Indians and the bustle... on March 22, 1864, the Third National Bank opened its doors. It was located on the west side of Main Street at the foot of Harrison Avenue, or almost opposite the site of the present main office. Third National was one of the earliest banks established under President Lincoln's National Currency Act, and was a depository for Federal funds, as well as an important aid to Springfield commerce, both during the Civil War and in the century since.

Very practical to use (will hold all your keys, pen-knife, frog stick, rabbit-foot and other treasures you do not wish to lose). In addition, the FOB will be an attractive and momentous memento of Springfield history.

And the FOB is really a KEY itself — a key to prosperity — if it reminds you to do all your banking at the THIRD. Very Worthwhile.

SPORTSMEN'S CORNER

By Bill Chiba

In 1963, hunters killed 8,654 deer, an increase of 713 over the 1962 kill in New Hampshire. Residents harvested 6,833 (of which 241 were taken by minors), and nonresidents killed 1,795—a ratio of 79 percent to 21 percent. Two hundred and two deer were taken in Pittsburg, making it once more the town with the highest kill. Dummer and Errol followed with 147 and 114 respectively. The town with the highest kill per square mile was Dummer. Grafton was the county with the highest kill, with 1,752 deer taken.

A total of 153 bear was taken during 1963—91 males and 62 females. Resident hunters bagged 136 of these, while nonresidents shot 14. One was killed by a car, one was struck by a train, and one was trapped by a conservation officer.

Coos County produced the highest number of bear, while the second largest kill was from Grafton County.

Maine Deer Herd

Winter conditions for Maine's deer herd have continued to be good through February with regional game biologist reporting unusually low snow depths statewide. Deer have been staying in the vicinity of their usual yarding areas but have not been confined to them.

Reporting regional men agreed that deer were free to roam in many areas not normally considered winter range. The available food supply—a critical factor to deer in winter—has been above average in most sections. An unusually large number of blow downs from high winds last fall provided food the deer could reach easily. The deer hunting this coming fall should provide very excellent healthy animals to the successful nimrod.

The Fishing Bug

With the days getting longer, there is a restless feeling that was hard to pin down until I received a note from Jim Barhydt, public relations man for the DuPont Company. He sent along the results of a survey carried on by the Stern people concerning the proper knots to use when joining monofilament fishing lines and leaders, to fly lines and lures.

Jim said, "While we believe that our 'stren' fluorescent mono-filament fishing line has superior knot strength, we have tested our recommended knots extensively on virtually every brand of monofilament manufactured. The results show that the best knots to use are the improved versions of the blood knot, the clinch knot and the end loop knot. All should have no less than five turns around the standing part of the line. As the number of turns decreases below five, the strength of the line is reduced proportionately. In addition, each knot should be pulled up slowly and tightly so it cannot slip."

We are traveling up to the Miramichi River, New Brunswick, Canada again this spring for black salmon fishing. "Ice out" is expected to take place around the middle of April due to the cutters that have been keeping the river open all winter up as far as Newcastle. We fish out of Fred Yankus' Island View Lodge, just 15 miles above Newcastle. The reports from New Brunswick are very encouraging for the greatest influx of Bright Salmon to ever impregnate the Miramichi River system took place last fall. Two wardens on a surveying expedition counted 7500 "Brights" in a 10 mile stretch of a tributary of the Miramichi. This means that the fish will be making their way to the sea just after "ice out"... They will be famished—the fishing will be fabulous.

The stren people have put on the market an assortment of leader material in one single package consisting of spools of fluorescent leader in eight different sizes. The spools range from two pound test to 30 pound test "mono" which is invisible to the fish but very visible to the fisherman. Yes, everything you need in one handy, easy-to-carry container to tie your own tapered, level and shock leaders from new Stren fluorescent material. I spent Saturday evening making up leaders I will use for the Atlantic Salmon I hope to catch next month. This new assortment is a must for the serious fisherman. Check it out at your nearest dealer, and you will have to agree with me.

The swivel chair was invented by Thomas Jefferson.

"THE MAN FROM GALVESTON"

Cancer Committee . . .

April 21, 325 willing volunteers will visit each and every home in Agawam. They will be bringing vital information to the townspeople on cancer facts. Few are aware that in Massachusetts alone this year, there are approximately 30,000 cancer cases. Of these, nearly 10,000 will die this year. We can help prevent these deaths if we are alerted to the danger signals of this dread disease. The volunteers visiting each home on April 21 will leave vital information at each house.

"I wish to point out that the house-to-house solicitation of the cancer drive will take place on one day only, the 21st of April. Between now and that date, precinct chairmen and captains will be searching for crusaders who will volunteer two hours of their time on that date and visit homes on their street. If you are asked to be a captain or a crusader, please don't say no. We need the help of every man woman and child in this town to make this campaign a success. Please say yes when asked to help and you will be speeding progress towards final victory in this killer of diseases. We need your help."

Volunteers wishing to offer their help may do so by contacting the chairman, Mr. Caroleo or the residential chairman, Mrs. Wyly Brame of Florida Dr., and their help will very much be appreciated.

Ernest Swanson is serving as treasurer of the campaign and Mrs. Thomas M. Danford is publicity chairman with Mrs. Chester Miller as co-chairman.

AHS April Career Day Conference

Mr. David Skolnick, guidance director at the Agawam High School announces that Career Career Day Conferences will be held every Wednesday morning at eight in the school auditorium during the month of April.

April 1 — "Holyoke Junior College," guest speaker is Dr. George Frost, Director of Admissions at the College in Holyoke, Mass.

At the regular meeting of the Agawam Lions Club last week, $60.00 was realized from a raffle of an "Easter Basket" and presented to Ernest Reed, chairman of the Boy Scout Troop 89 troop committee who attended with nine of his committee. And, incidentally, one of his fellow members, Dick Donovan, won the raffle. The Lions Club has sponsored this troop for over fifteen years.

The guest speaker of the evening was Col. Warren J. Kennedy, commanding officer of the Reserve Officers School at Hartford. His topic was "60,000 Headaches" and dealt with problems of locating, equipping, and governing a prisoner-of-war camp in France during World War II. Many of the incidents were most interesting, with a touch of humor, like the time he asked his engineering officer to install a water line of 6½" pipe from a source seven miles away. With the pipe "borrowed" from an English warehouse, the job was completed in one day with the help of 8,000 prisoners, who instead of using fittings, manually bent the pipes around a tree. Another innovation was the establishment of a school to teach 2500 prisoners 14 to 16 years old the American way of life in government, the constitution, Bill of Rights, and the judiciary, so that today in Germany many old soldiers know our ideals and aims. The mayor of the next town, which had been flattened by the allied invasion, from Omaha Beach, asked to have the town church rebuilt, and instead of only putting the church back, they completely rebuilt the town.

The Past Presidents will meet at Les Moore's home tonight to plan the anniversary night program for May 20th.
